PRAYER OF ADORATION AND CONFESSION

Great provider, giver of all good and perfect gifts, we come to you today fully aware that we do not trust you as we ought. We are anxious about our financial well being, and so we learn to trust in that which provides material blessings. We fear for our health and our safety and so we learn to trust that which is unsafe and unhealthy. Forgive us for not expecting you to be the Lord over all things in our life. We praise you for being perfect in all things and knowledgeable of all things. We pray this in your holy name, amen.

Although the body of this text is a paraphrase of Psalm 91, the refrain combines allusions to Exodus 19:4, Psalm 139:9, and Isaiah 40:31; 49:16. Written in response to the death of a friend's father, this piece has been a source of consolation to many people.

*May be sung as a canon.

The expression "all in all," meaning "everything," owes much of its endurance in English usage to its appearance in 1 Corinthians 15:28, though many phrases leading up to it here have parallels in Hebrew Scripture. The second section echoes the song to the Lamb in Revelation 5:12.
